CBC RADIO 3 TO NATIONALLY BROADCAST FIDGITAL CONCERT

Vancouver, BC (March 18, 2004) – CBC Radio 3 will be nationally broadcasting an entire concert from award-winning independent pop electronica band Fidgital. The concert will be broadcast across Canada by CBC Radio 2 transmitters on Saturday 20 March 2004, from 10:05 to 11:00 PM, and will be available on the internet through CBC Radio 3 (cbcradio3.com).

"We're really excited to be featuring this concert with Fidgital," says Don Pennington, CBC Radio 3's Executive Producer of Concert Productions. "CBC Radio 3 has been playing a lot of their tunes and thought it was about time the country got to hear them in action. Fidgital's live show is a high energy, tighter-than-tight musical romp through a vast catalogue of impressive tunes and catchy arrangements."

The concert was recorded live at BC's Big White ski resort, on Saturday 13 March 2004, as part of CBC's Spring Ding 2004. The concert featured thirteen Fidgital originals plus a broken beat cover version of Queen's "Another One Bites The Dust".

"The CBC has been so supportive of our music," says Keith Gillard, Fidgital's producer. "We're all long-time listeners, and with their recent expansion onto the internet, it's just amazing how much great Canadian music they are able to bring to the ears of the world. We're so pleased they asked us to play this event!"

About Fidgital:

Winner of the 2004 Canadian Independent Music Award for Favourite Electronica Artist/Group, Fidgital is a Vancouver-based independent band combining jazz, electronica and pop into new forms of dance music. Producer Keith Gillard and vocalist Ryan Slemko have been working together since 1999, and with live drummer Craig "Burdman" Burdes and bassist Brian "Rex" Barry since 2003. Fidgital has released 2 albums and 2 EPs to date, hitting #1 on the Canadian national electronica album charts in 2002. Fidgital is also known for having remixed artists such as Madonna, Coldcut and George Benson. Fidgital represented Canada on a national music trade mission to Japan and Australia in February 2004. The new Fidgital album, "Condo Life", was released across Canada on 20 January 2004 through Page Music Distribution and KOCH Entertainment Inc.
